AOC Saint-Joseph, Vallée du Rhône, France

Incredible quality for a "Northern" wine on this vintage.

THE VINTAGE

Indeed, all along the year, 2012 did not spare the Vignerons : even the savviest got confused, almost losing their points of references, while dealing with its tricks ! Heterogeneity in the vineyard would bear, right from the start, the mark of damage caused by winter frost. Sadly enough, very old Grenache and Syrah vines did not survive this frost. Loss of a precious heritage, impact on the yields of the upcoming harvest, Vignerons were already under pressure...

Conversely, the months of July and August were extremely hot, speeding up the maturing process, as a first step, but worsening water stress, in a second. Rarest reaction, the Vignerons came to bless the rains that fell beginning of September, as they profitably revived the phenolic ripening of the grapes. In the end, deciding the right moment to pick up grapes caused the serious Vignerons a real headache ! To the extent that the harvesting of the different cépages, in the different parcelles, followed a more than widely unusual order...

And now, for one more uncommon observation : opting for a later harvest was not necessarily the winning choice, in 2012 : the exception that proves the rule !

Now, at this stage, as the Wines are nearing the end of the fermenting process, they already impose their real potential : they are very, very, good... Thus, they lead us to admit that, from contrasts, Harmony can arise...

REVIEWS AND AWARDS

91-93/100

"Coming from the northern part the appellation, the 2012 Saint Joseph Vieilles Vignes has an almost Cornas-like wildness to it (that's what I would guess blind anyways), with perfumed violets, smoke, crushed rock, olive and assorted darker-styled fruit. Exhibiting a rich, layered texture, good acidity and loads of character, it's a serious effort that will have 10-12 years or more of longevity."

Jeb Dunnuck, Wine Advocate, 01/12/2013

90/100

"Focused, with alluring dark cherry, plum and blackberry fruit, melded with bramble and dried anise notes. A flicker of white pepper adds a nice contrast on the finish"

James Molesworth, Wine Spectator, 31/05/2015

93/100

"Dark and rich with juicy, bright, polished style; rich and intense blackberry and wild blueberry; lush, balanced and exquisite; a stunning wine from an under-appreciated appellation; masterful and complete."

Anthony Dias Blue, The Tasting Panel, 01/03/2015

92/100

"Opaque ruby. Captivating aromas of fresh black and blue fruits, violet, incense and smoky oak spices. Appealingly sweet and seamless on the palate, offering an array of dark berry and floral pastille flavors underscored by juicy acidity. Finishes with smooth, palate-dusting tannins that fade slowly into the wine's plush, mineral-accented fruit."

Josh Reynolds, Vinous, 01/02/2015

91-93/100

"Bright violet. Complex aromas of cassis, blueberry, Indian spices and black olive. Sweet, concentrated and chewy, offering powerful cassis and cherry compote flavors and a strong note of cracked pepper. Finishes long and sweet, with velvety tannins that fold smoothly into the wine's plush fruit. This fruit was sourced from vineyards in both the northern and southern parts of the appellation --in Chavanay, Saint-Pierre de Boeuf, Saint-Epine and Mauves--and exclusively from granitic soils."

Josh Reynolds, Stephen Tanzer International Wine Cellar, 01/04/2014

16,5/20

"60- and 100-year-old vines, some on granite, in decent communes. Very dark. Like the Crozes, much riper on the nose than most of its peers. Very full-on indeed. Attractive acidity and muscularity on the finish. Finishes with admirable freshness."
