JEB DUNNUCK

90/100

"Lots of black cherries, violets, leather, and graphite notes emerge from the 2021 Cornas, a medium-bodied, focused, nicely structured Cornas that will benefit from just a year or two of bottle age and keep for a decade."

Wine Spectator

"Shows alluring steeped cherry and damson plum flavors that are creamy and generous on the palate, with tangy acidity powering through. Offers licorice, vanilla and smoke incense accents that fill out the moderately intense center, all firmly bolted by iron. Reveals pleasing chewiness on the otherwise smooth finish."

Wine Spectator

"Scented nose here with dark cherries, blueberries, currants, violets, grilled meat and baking spices. Full-bodied with plush tannins and fresh acidity. Dense, creamy and compact with bright fruit at the center and a harmonious structure shaping the mid-palate. Precise and more spicy towards the long finish."
